About This Content

As the first diesel locomotives to be built at BR's Darlington Works, the Class 24 was built as part of the British Rail Modernisation Plan in the late 1950s.

The Class 24 was a Sulzer Type 2, Bo-Bo diesel-electric locomotive built between 1958 and 1961, incorporating numerous elements such as off-the-shelf standardised components used for manufacture, including a Sulzer 6LDA28 diesel engine and a 735Kw British Thomson-Houston (BTH) electric transmission, producing a total of 1,160hp resulting in a top speed of 75mph (120km/h).

Built at BR's Derby, Crewe and Darlington Works, Class 24s could be seen running services initially around Derby and Crewe, but eventually across the British Rail network hauling both passenger and freight. Fifteen of the original 20 locomotives were put into use on the Southern Region as the Kent Coast electrification scheme was behind schedule, and could also be spotted in the Eastern Region, London Midland Region, Wales and Lancashire.

Class 24s also took over Condor freight services from London to Glasgow, replacing Class 28s, and became the foundation for the later Class 25 model.

The first Class 24 to be withdrawn from service was D5051 in November 1967 and by 1979, all but three Class 24s had been withdrawn from service, 14 of which were scrapped before receiving a TOPS number. The final locomotive, 24081, was withdrawn in October 1980.

Today, only four of the Class have survived into preservation, D5032 and D5061 at the North Yorkshire Moors Railway, D5054 at the East Lancashire Railway and 24081 at the Gloucestershire & Warwickshire Railway.

The BR Class 24 for Train Simulator recreates the locomotive as it operated for British Railways throughout the UK in the 1960s, and is available in British Railways corporate blue/grey livery. Also included are BR Mk1 coaches in corporate blue/grey livery and 40T YGH 'Sealion' ballast wagons.

The locomotive is also Quick Drive compatible, giving you the freedom to drive the BR Class 24 on any Quick Drive enabled route for Train Simulator, such as those available through Steam. Also included are scenarios specifically for the Weardale & Teesdale Network route (available separately and required to play these scenarios).

Scenarios

Three scenarios for the Weardale & Teesdale Network route:

- Mickleton to Darlington
- Durham to Darlington
- Shildon to Brandon

More scenarios are available on Steam Workshop online and in-game. Train Simulator's Steam Workshop scenarios are free and easy to download, adding many more hours of exciting gameplay. With scenarios being added daily, why don't you check it out now!

Absolutely fantastic game! From the second I started playing I was hooked. The writing is great, the pacing is terrific and the detail is engrossing. I've always enjoyed Choice of Games and I'm really happy that there's finally an assassin COG. There are a ton of options and different ways to play through the game, which I first got on my phone. I've now played it a second and third time. I keep discovering more and more. I like how you can really choose to be the kind of assassin you want to be. Definitely recommended.. I've played with this expansion many times, but have never seen any ice queen fights at the crown of command or alternate endings. The extra cards seem to be there though. What am I missing here?. So, in my opinion, this is the first killer app for VR. Ping pong is a game where you don't get tired of the mechanics right away. A lot of games are fun, but this one is the first one that really encompasses the whole sport per say. If you like ping pong, this is the game for you. It has a tournament so you feel like you are progressing, something a lot of games don't have. Difficulty is nice, I have played a little bit of ping pong in real life and am pretty average at it. The average opponents on here I can defeat about half the time so far. Close to real life as I have seen.

Things to work on

- Air resistance, I felt like a lot of my shots went long when they probably shouldn't have
- English, I see the ball spinning in the game which is really cool, but it doesn't seem to curve
- Side/corner bounces, Also another cool feature, but they should probably be limited somehow, because a few times I was tempted to jump into the wall to go after a ball that hit the exact edge of the table. Perfectly viable in real life, but maybe tone it down for headset wearers.
- Better graphics, I like the current ones, but could probably be upgraded
- Last, maybe a coach of some sort, or a girlfriend/friend that cheers just for you, gives you tips, jeers the other team with funny one liners.

Overall, really great start, and something I could play 'as is' for hours. I will try to update once I get more game time in.. The game was good, not gonna lie.

It kept me interested and the free chapter made me want to buy the others.

I'll keep it short:

STORY

Pretty good, not a best-seller but good enough to keep me engaged.

MUSIC & SOUND

It's the kind of music that doesn't interfere with the game, it actually blends in with the visuals and it's not an invasive thing. Props to the composer too, great score.

VISUALS

It's eye candy basically. It's a nice hand-draw-style art, though I did notice a lack of variety in the main character avatars and in the first chapter there's a limited amount of the same kind of wolf you can tolerate.

GAMEPLAY

Engaging.

If you're into storytelling, sign in. It made me want to buy the rest.

Don't be fooled though, the strategic part they name it's quite limited.

As far as "variety of gameplay" it's basically a readthis-fightthis-checkyouritems-repeat.

OVERALL

7/10

Buy it as a pack though.. Good thinking man's game, similar to chess in many ways, but much more complex.. First things first... this game will drive you mad, and then you'll get it, or your brain will. Velocibox is a unique twitch based puzzle racer with just 'one more go' arcade elements.... and did I say it's hardcore!

You will die, time after time, but all the while you start to learn how the game works and eventually you start to get into the flow of the game. There is nothing better than beating your last high score and Velocibox might appear simple at first but at its heart its gameplay is executed smoothly and flawlessly. I have always believed that games are great for reflex brain training, and there's no better example than Velocibox. I'm off to see if I can beat LEVEL 2..... AARGGHHHH! - Enjoy!. A old favorite, still hasnt failed to impress me and is a RTS players dream.. can't open the game in mac os 10.13.3. after i click new game a black screen coming and i can see only cursor hand. what is the problem. Rifter is a very fluent and fast paced rope platformer. Speed runs and collectibles as well as challenges for the levels take it all to a new difficulty.

I like the sound optics and overall look and feel. Its cool to play and hard to master ;) watching speedruns of other people makes it look super easy! But try yourself. Worth playing for sure!

Either for a nice experience inbetween or the hardcore challenge through and through!

Trash phone game port.. Picked this up earlier while at my dads. I enjoyed it, and so did he. We got around an hours worth for \u20ac2 so I cant complain. Eerie atmosphere and some parts that were genuinely creepy.. Old Game but Fun! this why i love this puzzle game, well, i think this game with simple graphic but funny logic! Worth it when i buy this game in Bundlestar. well as you know this game learn you how to finished puzzle with joke!

Fun

and make me Laugh!

Buy This, if you are not late with Bundlestar now, just buy it now! it will be worth it.. god game but the mutiplayer is glichy. tldr: colourful platformer that gets boring really fast.

start was feeling good but the concept became boring very fast.

i also felt like the movement was a little bit slow in later stages of the game.

additionally you cant change the preset keybindings to better ones than QSDZ for movement. especially the Z movement is kinda annoying for european keyboards.

gametime was really low with < 1hour for me.

discovered one bug in that gametime.

only positive things in my opinion are the colourful design of the levels and the music (both are my taste and it can differ for you)

. awesome game. I finally put a lot of hours into CAU last night, going through all 12 of the new police missions, buying all the police cars, doing several crate delivery missions (as a bad guy) and joining in several police chases (to stop the bad guy). I also levelled up to 60 in the process.

My opinion is that the new chases are great fun. They add a new dimension to the gameplay, which frankly has become a little stale after 500+ hours in the game. The police chases freshen it up a lot. It's much more exciting to be chased by real players than the AI police, while chasing down and arresting real players is extremely satisfying.

However, the DLC is very poor value for money, unless you don't own Wild Run, in which case it's great value for money because you get both. If you've already purchased Wild Run, then it's a bit of a rip off. They really should have sold it at a discount for Wild Run owners.

The good news: you don't have to own CAU to be a criminal and do the crate delivery missions, so everybody gets half of the new content for free!

The bad news: there are only 12 new missions and the story is pretty much non-existent. Unlike the original story missions there are no cut-scenes for most of them, so we don't even get to see the bad guy we're after. We're just chasing a name. The missions don't take long to complete, I did them all in an hour or so, and I got no sense of satisfaction or connection to the so called story. I expected a lot more, like the original story that was much more engaging.

Having said that, the new missions are a lot of fun and I spent a lot of time repeating many of them, trying to score platinum in each. That's a very quick way to level up your police cars. Due to the nature of the chases, they can be different each time. In fact, doing badly is more fun than catching them quickly because you get a longer chase to enjoy.

The real fun though, is chasing (or being chased by) real players rather than the idiot AI who are usually quite easy to beat (except on the harder missions). And of course, there are a few new cars available and being a cop in supercar is really cool.

In summary: It's a lot of fun and I'm really enjoying it, but it's very poor value for money if you already own Wild Run. If you love this game, you've probably bought it already, but if you haven't, why not? If you don't have Wild Run, it's very good value. If you're on the fence, wait for a sale.. I've been following velocibox since it's alpha/beta stages and it's really grown on me. The premise of the game is really simple, collect 6 cubes per level to advance to the next level. There are 9 levels for normal mode, each with their own different challenges and obstacles. Losing in any levels causes you to restart the game from level 1 as the game does not have any checkpoints or saves.

While that may sound rather unfair, each level is finely tuned and well balanced. There are multiple ways to overcome obstacles in your path, and each challenge often teach players new ways to overcome previous obstacles. Velocibox gives you a very strong sense of achivement and progression when you're finally able to deal with the levels you've previously cursed and raged

It is by no means an easy game, but it's definitely a rewarding game that you'll come to enjoy playing after hundreds of attempts. Velocibox is the game that'll get you saying "Just one more try! I can do this!" over and over. Good luck with this game, you're gonna need it in Super Velocibox mode. Get ready to meet your new best friend: Level 1.. Very fun an addictive !!
